GOV. COX CALLS CONFERENCE FOR TALK ON LABOR

Problem of Unemployment
In Ohio Needs Attention
he Declares.

CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIALS
WILL MEET STATE OFFICERS

Public Work Is Suggested
To Meet Need for Employment In State

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Jan. 25.—Declaring that "it is highly important that attention be given to the conditions growing out of the unemployment of labor in this state," Governor Cox today called a meeting for next Tuesday afternoon in Columbus of mayors and county commissioners to discuss and if possible formulate plans to solve the labor situation. This meeting will deal chiefly with the employment of labor on public works.

In addition to mayors and county commissioners summoned to the meeting, these federal and state officials have been asked to attend and participate in the conference: Fred Croxton, federal director of employment in Ohio; T. J. Duffy of the state industrial commission; State Highway Commissioner Clinton Cowen; and Chairman C. Marshall of the state public utilities commission.

The governor stated that this proposed meeting will be followed soon by another between representatives of labor and management.

In discussing the labor situation the governor said:

"The best thought of our people must be applied to the task of making such provision as is possible in these preliminary days of the transitional period. "Quite natural industrial conditions cannot be made normal until both factors and human energy have been returned to the production of peace essentials. Pending that time, the instrumentalities of government must be turned to the matter of carrying forward necessary public work with the least possible delay."

"The state government has made a survey of the large industrial centers and the conditions are measurably well understood. Much can be done along certain definite lines. First, giving employment by preference to returned soldiers; second, discouraging the bringing of outside help into the state; and third, avoiding the misunderstandings which are very apt to accrue in passing from war to a peace basis industrially."

GERMANS FIGHT WAY THROUGH BOLSHEVISTS

Coblenz, Friday, Jan. 24.—After being three weeks on a train fighting their way through bands of Bolsheviki in Russia, several German soldiers arrived here yesterday from the Ukraine.

One hundred Germans of the Bavarian heavy artillery left Koblenz on December 26, after manning a special train armed with one-pounders, machine guns and rifles. A non-commissioned officer of the German First corps, with headquarters at Kharkov, who arrived here, estimates that eighty German soldiers remain in the Ukraine.

Between Kharkov and Kiev the German train had frequent encounters with bands of Bolsheviki, numbering from two hundred to two thousand. In one of these encounters the Germans suffered sixty casualties.

The official train was frequently stopped by Bolsheviki and it was necessary for the Germans to fight their way day after day. Some times they bribed the Bolsheviki to allow them to pass, but in most cases they fought their way through, using machine guns from the train windows.

The itinerary of the Germans includes Pottava and Kremenchug, the train making several detours because of destroyed bridges.

The Bolsheviki had officers but they maintained little order and the Bolsheviki fought as disorganized units. A large proportion of the train appeared to be former Russian prisoners. Many wore Russian uniforms while some had uniforms stolen from German soldiers. The non-commissioned officer declared that food was plentiful in the Ukraine but expensive. In his opinion the entire Ukraine will be held by the Bolsheviki within a month or two.

WILL SHIP SUPPLIES UP RHINE TO U. S. SOLDIERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Coblenz, Thursday, Jan. 25.—Preparations have been begun at Rotterdam by Brigadier General Mosely for the shipment of supplies for use by the army of occupation on the Rhine to Coblenz. Indications are that the water route to Coblenz will soon be in use. It is understood that upon the instructions made by General Mosely and allied naval forces will depend largely the decisions regarding returning American troops home by way of the Rhine. Before such a movement is undertaken all mines and other obstacles will have to be removed from the waters through which the steamers would have to pass after leaving Holland.

MUST STICK TO FOURTEEN POINTS

Sen. Lewis Declares America's Honor Is Pledged to Such Basis.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Jan. 25.—Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, speaking today before the Lawyers club in support of the proposal for a league of nations declared that the American government in the peace settlement could not abandon a single one of President Wilson's fourteen principles without having itself open to the charge of perfidy.

Germany, Senator Lewis said, would have the right to refuse to abide by the terms of the armistice, the allies would be justified in withdrawing from the peaceable and all small nations or assisting peoples fighting with the United States on the basis of the President's proposals would be excused before the world in turning from America. "It is impossible for the United States to withdraw one of her terms or postpone or omit to press on—with giving Germany the right then and there to refuse to abide by the terms of the armistice in any particular," said Senator Lewis. "They could refuse to deliver her cannon and arms as agreed. The allies would be justified in accusing us of treachery and withdrawing from the table."

"The very last and first of the basis of peace, was that all nations qualified as civilized should league to prevent war in all future. This was the one principle on which the German people took terms of peace and withheld further arms and armies to Germany. It was on this basis the guaranty of future peace in Europe that Britain and France accepted the terms of the United States. On this one rock we built our house. To this house come all the nations. Can we now violate the honor of our house-suffering ourselves to be the basis of nations another Imperial Prussia? It is now a question of American honor. It cannot be violated to accommodate political party issues or to gratify racial or national hatreds."

"Such decision is not possible before March first next, but the benefits of such decision are to be understood as in full force and effect at this time, and the delay in issuing final decision by the director general has been unavoidable."

GOVERNMENT WILL OPERATE PARIS CARS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Jan. 25.—The French government is about to take a hand in the general transportation strike which was declared in Paris yesterday affecting the subway lines, the surface cars and automobile buses. It has decided to operate virtually the entire transportation system of the city, the north and south metropolitan system, the subway, the street car service and the omnibus company of Paris and the Seine. This action, it is said, is to be taken because the government considers it inadvisable that even a partial stoppage of the means of transportation in Paris should occur.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Jan. 25.—Failure of relatives and friends at home to hear from many members of the expeditionary forces has led General Pershing to order that every man in the American army in France mail to his nearest relative a postcard giving the present location, state of health and military unit of the writer. General March announced the order today and said special postcards were being supplied for the purpose.

General March said today that men discharged from the army will be permitted to retain the divisional insignia which they wore while in service. A recent order of the department prescribed that the wearing of these insignia would be permitted up to the date of discharge. So far as the men remaining in the regular army are concerned the regulation concerning uniforms will be maintained and they do not permit soldiers to wear insignia of the divisions with which they formerly served.

YOUNG WOMAN DIES SUDDENLY

Family Says Mrs. Decima
Markham Died of Overdose of Medicine—Coroner Says Suicide.

Mrs. Decima Woolees Markham, aged 20, died last night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Woolees, South Second street. The family stated that the young woman, who was employed at the Kidwell studio, came home early in the afternoon suffering with a severe headache and took some headache powders and went to bed. At supper time she said she was too ill to eat. Later in the evening she became violently ill and called her mother, and died in a few minutes. Her mother thought it was probable that she took an over dose of headache medicine, or made a mistake and took cyanide of potassium, which she often purchased for photography on her way home, taking it in the studio the next morning. Coroner Richards viewed the body and said that he would render a verdict of suicide.

Besides her parents she is survived by her husband, Harold Markham; three sisters: Mrs. Park Petty of this city, Evelyn Annabelle Woolees, and three brothers: Ronald, Clyde and John Woolees of the home.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home in Second street, Elder Cass will officiate. Burial will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

HERE'S TOUGH ONE FOR WILHELM: KRUPP PLANT WORKS FOR U. S.

Glimpse of famous Krupp factory at Essen, Germany, and one of giant siege mortars turned over there.

The giant Krupp plant at Essen, Germany, one of the factors on which the ex-kaiser counted in his dreams for world conquest, is now devoting its energies to turning out gun parts for the United States. The factory is making parts for seventy-two incomplete German cannon rejected by the American authorities when the guns were turned over as part of the armistice terms. Eighty other cannon have been shipped by the Germans to the American army headquarters to replace other guns rejected. These eighty guns and the seventy-two for which parts are being made will complete the delivery to the U. S. forces.

CO-OPERATION AMONG FARMERS IS IMPORTANT AFTER-WAR NECESSITY

President Hail Tells Licking County Farmers the Need
For Unity of Effort in Coming Year—Farm Agent
Makes Report of Year's Activities.

The favorable weather brought a large attendance at the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau at the High School auditorium today. Rev. L. C. Sparks offered the opening prayer and an address was delivered by the president W. C. Hall. Mr. Hall told what the farm bureau meant and what it stood for in this period which is known as the reconstruction period. "What has happened to our structure that we need reconstruction?" said Mr. Hall. Then he proceeded to explain that the farming structure had grown from purely natural progress. It came from clearing away of the timber, the natural draining of the soil, natural water resources, etc. And that the structure had tended to make the farming people selfish. Their mode of living tending to narrow their viewpoint.

"Now the war has brought about new conditions and broken down this natural structure and the thing to do is for the farmer to re-construct for the individual unaided can accomplish nothing now and the people must come together and reconstruct their former ideas."

The high school orchestra furnished a musical program and L. L. Mowls, manager of the county farm bureau made his annual report.

It showed the total amount of business done for 1918 to be $10,750. The farm labor applicants 91; the labor supplied farmers, 75; wheat treated for smut 17; tractor demonstration 1 seed tests selected 100; live stock associations 175; farms using chemical fertilizer 49; letters mailed 1000; farms visited 203; farm visits 224; visitors at office 4464; membership first of year 350; membership at close of year 500. The plan of war is nitrate and the following program was outlined for the coming year:

First. Soil—Encouraging the use of acid phosphates and lime. Encouraging the growth of alfalfa, alsike, soybeans, more clover and less timothy.

Second. Crops—Since corn is the principal crop its growth should be encouraged, seed selected carefully and men and boys' corn growing contests encouraged.

Third. Live stock—Encouraging and establishing live stock clubs and encouraging co-operation in community breeding; reorganization of new cow testing associations.

Fourth. Boys and girls clubs.

Fifth. Encouraging the keeping of farm accounts.

Following Mr. Mowls address, O. A. Brooks made his report as secretary and treasurer. The treasurer's report showed that at the first of 1918 there was $424.84 in the treasury. The receipts for 1918 were $1,827.38, making a total of $2,252.26. Expenses, $187.71, leaving a balance January 1, 1919, of $1,484.55.

In his secretary's report he told of the various meetings held during the year. The officers and directors held fifteen meetings with a fairly good attendance, the president, W. C. Hall, and L. L. Mowls being in attendance at all of these.

Following the amendment adopted at the last annual meeting for the purpose of an executive committee, the following were named:

J. H. Meyers, Helron; Edward Alspaugh, Vanatta; John H. Orr, Jackson town; N. G. Duxton, Johnstown; R. W. Lillard, Hanover.

The meeting failed to elect officers at the morning session, so the election was to take place following the assembling of the session at 1:30 o'clock. The address of the afternoon was delivered by Professor Clark Wheeler of Ohio State University.

LOANS TO ALLIES ARE LIGHT DURING MONTH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Jan. 25.—America's job as banker for the allies has been light during this month than at any time since the nation entered the war. Only $170,000,000 has been paid out as allied loans since January 1, the treasury reported today, although payments on this account for a long time ran around $400,000,000 a month. (ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Jan. 25.—Retirement of the allied forces holding advanced positions in the Archangel sector before attacks by superior forces of Bolsheviki, is reported in an official dispatch dated January 23, the substance of which was made public today by General March.

The points attacked by the enemy lay generally about 100 miles from Archangel. General March said the inter-allied commander there had adequate troops to re-enforce the advanced elements and to handle the situation. The message reported the American losses in one of the actions at Ust Pedenga as 10 enlisted men killed, 17 wounded and 11 missing. A later dispatch said subsequent attacks were repulsed when delivered on the positions taken up by the American forces.

An inter-allied force engaged at Shenkursk consisted of a British detachment, two companies of Americans and two companies of Russians. These were attacked on three sides and compelled to evacuate their positions as were also the allied patrols holding Ust Pedenga. The American troops falling back took a position midway between this point and Shenkursk. In one of the attacks reported 1,000 enemy troops were in action against the small allied force.

General March pointed out again that the whole military situation at Archangel was under the control of the inter-allied high command in France. He intimated that should reinforcements be deemed necessary any action to supply them would have to come from the high command and after recommendation from the British commander-in-chief of the forces in Siberia.

General March announced that punishments of war time severity for military offenders in the United States have been stopped by the war department. From now on military offenses at home will be punished in accordance with an order issued by the president before the war, which set out the maximum sentence which would be approved for military offenders in time of peace.

The new order does not apply to troops in France, Siberia or Italy; and does not mean commutation of sentences already imposed at home.

$49,000 BALANCE IN CO. WAR CHEST STATEMENT SAYS

Heavy Appropriations Are Made By Committee From Funds On Hand

Collections to Continue and War Work Committee to Remain Intact

Collections for the Licking county war chest will continue until enough funds are on hand to meet approved demands that may be made on the balance, it was announced today by G. G. Barber, secretary-treasurer. At the same time this statement was issued a financial statement was given out which shows that after heavy appropriations were made for various purposes up to and including those made this month, $49,460.45 remained in the treasury. The statement follows: "At the meeting of the committee held January 23, 1919, other than the war chest, the Licking county war chest organization should become a member of the national investigation bureau, which is an association of various war chest bodies of the country, the purpose of which is to inquire thoroughly into the merits of appeals for war chest funds, to expose the worthy cause and prevent the appropriation of war chest funds for objects found to be extravagant or ill-advised.

On recommendation of the committee on appropriation as reported by its chairman—A. R. Lindorff—the following appropriations were made:

American Jewish relief	$ 3,000
Armenian and Syrian relief	5,000
Commission for relief of Belgium	1,000
Commission for devastated France	3,000
Relief fund for children of the frontier	1,000
Newark A. F. F. W. dispensary	700
Total	$13,700

The war chest has thus made a beginning of discharging its duties toward those suffering from the direct effects of the great war. This is a duty which no contributor to the war chest would wish to see shirked or evaded. Up to this time our appropriations have been made largely for the benefit of our own troops. Further investigation will indicate what additional relief was sought to give to deserving relief causes.

"Considering the question as to what proportion of Licking county war chest subscriptions should be collected, it was decided that collections would be continued until enough funds were on hand and appropriated to meet all the proposed demands that might be made thereon.

The complete financial statement of the condition of the war chest follows:

Net cash received	$245,965.04
DISBURSEMENTS:
United war work campaign	$ 64,000.00
War chest stunt committee	10.00

"When a Child Droops"

Hurry, mother! Relieve the little stomach, liver and bowels of souring food, bile and poisons. Look at the tongue! Children love to take harmless "Cascarets," because Cascarets taste like candy—only 10 cents too!

Children droop and wither like tender flowers if you permit bile, sour fermentations and constipation poison to be absorbed into the system. When a child's tongue is white, breath feverish, stomach sour, you can always depend upon good, safe "Cascarets" to gently but thoroughly clean the clogged-up places. Children love to take Cascarets, the candy cathartic which never gripes, never injures, never disappoints. Each 10 cent box contains directions and dose for children aged one year old and upwards.

story is called "The Fly God," and is said to be as amusing and interesting as "A Red Haired Cupid," in which Mr. Stewart last appeared. "The Fly God" depends for one of its biggest dramatic situations on a common, ordinary, garden variety of house fly. Though the country-wide slogan is "sew the fly," this particular fly (or her) service in the cause of justice and humanity.

"The Ghost of the Rancho," starring

Scene from the big musical comedy sensation "The Million Dollar Doll" at Auditorium, Matinee and Night, Jan. 30th.

Bryant Washburn, his late work for the Pathe program, was written by Arthur Henry Gooden, adapted for reproduction on the screen by Jack Cunningham and produced under the direction of William Worthington. Mr. Washburn's latest offering is a light comedy with a bit of melodrama scattered here and there, comedy that only Bryant Washburn can instill, and the atmosphere of the great Southwest. What more could be expected from an hour's entertainment on the screen? Mr. Washburn has thoroughly convinced the public that he has the ability to enact the brand of drama that they like. He proved this by his work in the famous "Skinner" series.

Monday and Tuesday.

This six-reel number presents one of the most human and altogether touching stories that have come out of that paradise of story tellers—the New Woods. It is so big and simple in its conception and so direct in its development that it will have almost universal appeal. Child interest, intense mother love and stirring personal encounters between rugged men of the woods are features of the tale, which is pictured in a wild region in perfect keeping with the story.

Reeves Larson wrote and produced this remarkably entertaining subject and also played the part of Red Adams, the villain of the piece. Mitchell Lewis is played by the best known, rugged, Lenora, with Jimmy May as the son of the wife. But good as the work of the adult actors of the cast is, the honors of the production go to Little Douglas, played by a child named "Douglas" Reeves. This little fellow is scarcely more than a baby, but he rises to the occasion in every scene, and this is a story which centers largely about him.

"Heart of the Sunset."

Historic incidents of the Mexican borderland in the days of Fletcher's occupation of Vera Cruz and Pershing's invasion are vividly reproduced in Rex Beach's "Heart of the Sunset," the screen classic of the great Southwest, to be seen at the Auditorium theatre tomorrow, Sunday.

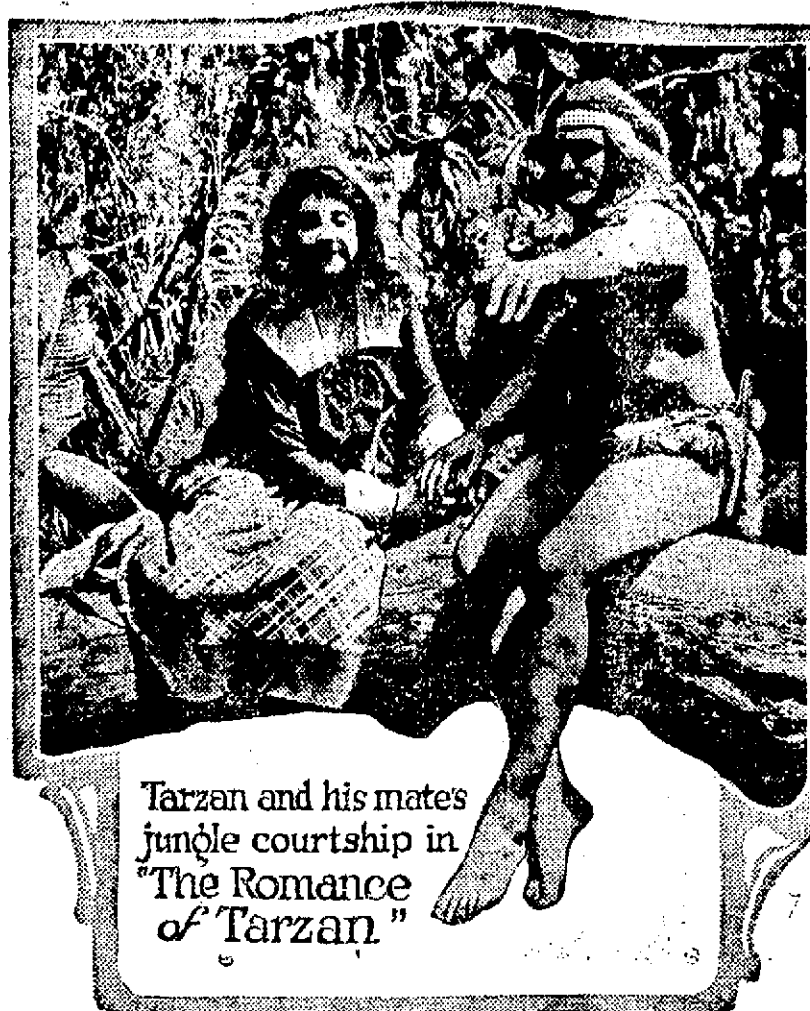

Aldre Austin (Anna T. Nilsson) is the beautiful bride of a wealthy and dissolute rancher. While riding to her own ranch, miles away from her husband, her horse dies under her and she pushes on a-foot. Losing her way in the hot sun, Aldre falls exhausted at a waterhole, where she is found by Dave Law, a Texas ranger. He gives her food and makes her comfortable for the night. Later Longoria, a rebel Mexican general, infatuated with Aldre, and who has long coveted the Austin ranch, orders her husband slain. Before she learns of his death, Aldre finds the bandits have stolen a herd of her cattle and starts into Mexico to recover them.

Then, the well known Hippodrome, New York theatre comedian will be an added feature, being screened in the two-reel laughable comedy, "Cleopatsy," a burlesque on Cleopatra with Theda Bara. It is said to be a scream. A Pathe News and the Incomparable Orchestra as usual will be seen and heard.

"The Romance of Tarzan."

Manager Fenberg brings to the Auditorium for a three-day showing, "The Romance of Tarzan," the concluding chapters to "Tarzan of The Apes." Below we give the story.

Tarzan, the son of Lord and Lady Greystoke, is born in a rude home in the jungles of the African Gold Coast, whether his parents have taken refuge after having been marooned by the mutinous crew of the ship upon which they had taken passage from England. Lord Greystoke had been sent out by the British government to investigate the evils of the Arabian slave trade among the native Africans. When months passed and he failed to return his scapegrace younger brother, who had some years previous married a good-looking barmaid, assumes the title of Lord Greystoke, which his unscrupulous wife is highly desirous of passing esting scenes, several among them being historical, such as the Union Jack flying at Wilhelmshaven, Germany. Scenes in Trieste, Austria, etc. "Eye for Eye," with Mrs. Nazimova drew capacity crowds yesterday. The last screenings are seen today together with the latest Pathe News. "Loves Conquest," with Lina Cavalieri, a Paramount feature comes to the Auditorium again. This is big one, with a big star and should draw big crowds. Seats, or rather tickets, can be purchased in advance for "The Romance of Tarzan" at the Auditorium Monday. This will save the patrons waiting in line, for if the last engagement of "Tarzan of The Apes" is duplicated—thousands will see "The Romance of Tarzan" at the Auditorium Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next.

STATION AGENT MAKES RECORD

Sells $30,000 in War Savings Stamps For Per Capita Average of $25.

Columbus, O.—(Special).—The sale of War Savings Stamps by W. L. Laughlin, station agent at Jewett, Harrison county, last year more than equalled the committee's quota of $20 per capita, assigned by the Treasury Department.

During the year Mr. Laughlin's sale of War Savings Stamps from his station at Jewett was in excess of $30,000. With a population of approximately 1,200, the sale of these securities averaged more than $25 for every person in the territory.

Even the fellow with an impediment in his speech may have views that are decidedly pronounced.

JOHNSTOWN MOURNS.
All Johnstown paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. William A. Ashbrook yesterday afternoon. Stores and offices were closed and the entire community bowed its head in sorrow over the death of this woman who for more than a quarter of a century had been a leader in church, social and civic activities of the town.
The Methodist church where in the eighties Mrs. Ashbrook, then a high school teacher, taught a Sunday school class of boys and girls, was filled with friends yesterday afternoon. The chancel was banked with flowers. The minister, Rev. J. W. Blair, pronounced a beautiful eulogy, speaking of the splendid character of Mrs. Ashbrook and of her great and continuous good work for the uplift of Johnstown. The Rev. A. J. Hawke of New Lexington, former Johnstown pastor, who officiated at the Ashbrook wedding nearly thirty years ago, also spoke briefly but feelingly of his long and cordial relationship with Mr. and Mrs. Ashbrook. A quartet sang and then the last sad rites were conducted at the little cemetery north of town.
The death has served to make Johnstown pause and reflect upon the remarkable character of the one who has passed on. Hers was a life of real and practical service to others. That is why the whole town is sad and why its loss is so keenly felt.
ARMY Y. M. C. A.
Considerable criticism of the army Y. M. C. A. work in France is heard, and will probably result in a general investigation.
It should be kept in mind that the Y. M. C. A. was put up against a practically impossible proposition. They were asked to take charge of a great business spending $100,000,000 a year. Most of the trained secretaries never had had any experience in that line of work. It was about like taking a bunch of ordinary men out of the streets and asking them to operate the Pennsylvania railroad.
Furthermore there weren't trained secretaries in the country enough to take charge of all these camps. It became necessary to take on any ordinary fellow of fair ability who might apply. Naturally most of them were not up to the enormous business task that needed some of the biggest business brains in the country. That the organization succeeded as well as it did with this terrific proposition to handle is amazing. The general testimony of the army heads was that it did much better than was expected.
Some people have condemned it for taking on the cannon work. Yet the government wanted it to do it, and it could hardly refuse. The Y. M. C. A. would have attained more popularity if it had passed this job over to some one else, but it would have missed a great chance to come into intimate contact with the men.
When the soldiers get home, they will no doubt tell the story of self-sacrificing, earnest service by the Y. M. C. A. men. We are sure they will praise the good work of our fellow townsmen, Frank L. Johnson, Ray Evans, Ed S. Randolph, and Charles B. Hewitt. These men and many others toiled long hours under great difficulties and frequent danger.

Most of the secretaries asked for front line service, and they paid a heavy price in killed and wounded. In spite of all difficulties, the "Y" brought the home touch to the soldiers and the army heads said that one "Y" man added as much to army efficiency as 12 soldiers ordinarily could.
The Chamber of Commerce dinner and smoker at the Warden last night was a great success. Douglas Malloch was a delightful speaker. He drove home some things to think about and sandwiched them with humor. Toastmaster J. M. Mitchell and the other speakers on the program, J. S. Herzog, President of the Chamber of Commerce and W. H. Mazey, spoke of the mission of this civic organization and the value of co-operation of "getting together." Meetings like that of last night can not help to bring results.
"Musician" wants to know what has become of all the girls who used to take piano lessons? O, well, they have got so they can start the phonograph without help, which they feel is a considerable achievement.
The German delegates will finally be admitted to the peace table, and if they make very good promises they may be allowed to decide whether they will have their crow roasted, boiled or fried.
The folks who want all the soldiers brought home immediately might be offered the chance to go over and settle the things if trouble breaks out again in a few months.
It is denied that the Bolsheviks have no principles, as they are firmly resolved to exclude from the government anyone who uses the bath tub or visits the barber.
The time has gone by when people can prove their fitness for office by rushing around the country addressing every assemblage of six men and a dog.
It takes 200,000 soda fountains to irrigate the dusty throats of the American girl and the high school boy.
The people who favor anarchy want the business of handing food to them to be very scientifically organized.
The politicians are talking about 1920 and as usual agreeing that the best men can't carry the doubtful states.
RAILROAD RATES.
(Philadelphia Record.)
The Interstate Commerce Commission has raised the question of Government control of the railways in a very acute form by reducing some of the rates fixed by Director General McAdoo. It has no means of reducing the wages fixed by the former Director General, and the Interstate Commerce Commission has been holding down the income of the companies. The Department of Labor and the Government reducing charges while another branch of the Government advances wages.
The last state of the railroads is worse than the first. The Interstate Commerce Commission has been holding down the income of the companies. The Department of Labor and the Government reducing charges while another branch of the Government advances wages.
But apart from this change in rates ordered by the Commission, it takes the form of the President's address to Congress that the war is ended. If the treaty of peace has not been made, the war is in fact ended for all legal and commercial purposes. After controlling the railroads for 13 months and raising wages and ordering thousands of cars and commanding officers, the Government summarily step out from under and let their owners with all the restrictions imposed for war reasons and all their new liabilities.
But it is evident that the Interstate Commerce Commission sees no reason why Government control should last another 21 months of the war, and years, and with the Commission and the Directorship General in sharp conflict it is the duty of Congress to take prompt action looking either toward the return of the lines to their owners at the earliest practicable moment, or toward the unification of the branches of the railroads, charged with exercising public control.
PRICE READJUSTMENT.
(Omaha Bee)
Prices are coming down, but it is a slow and painful process, in no way resembling the joyous bounds by which the abnormal height were attained. Artificial support is resorted to here and there, that the reversal may not be too abrupt and end in calamity, but the laws of business are operating and their efforts are noticeable. Dealers generally are better prepared for this than they were for the advance, and very few will be caught with stocks on which to accept serious loss. Coal men are an exception, for they were urged, and wisely, to make ample provision for winter demands and consequently unusual stocks of coal were stored as a matter of insurance. Sharp readjustment of prices has been forced, as far as possible by the gradual reduction of government support, but this must in time disappear and business stand on its own feet. Indications of this are noted in the reaction of the market for the various commodities of the buyers showing not so much a reluctance to purchase needed supplies as a wariness for the future. Other staples evince similar tendencies, and as a peace comes nearer we may soon witness the reaction of the market. The law is inexorable and cannot be forever held up by protracting enterprises.

CLOTHES AND THE DIS-CHARGED SOLDIERS.
(Detroit Free Press)
There is no doubt that the right to wear the army uniform after discharge is going to become a subject of serious controversy throughout the United States. Indeed, it has already become so and we find the military authorities actually threatening action against men who continue to wear the khaki
beyond the period strictly necessary because of the financial condition of the former soldiers.
The whole question, from the point of view of the army authorities, would seem to revolve around the question of financial need. Washington and the several camp headquarters
try to make it plain that they have no feeling nor design against the ex-soldiers who, for any reason, find themselves back in civil life without ready means to purchase immediately new clothes and who therefore, continue to wear the khaki for a brief season.
But there is official feeling—and it appears to be bitter and stringent—against any abuse of this privilege.
There is, apparently, to be a strict time limit on the period allowed even the poorest of the ex-soldiers in which to effect the complete change to civilian garb. Already there seems to be a very pointed intimation that some men have exceeded this period.
Similarly it would seem to be the purpose of the war department to bring pressure to bear upon men who are financially able, because of the nature of their new employment and the wages they are receiving, to buy civilian clothes yet persist in wearing their army uniforms for the purpose of advertising their army service or gaining certain business advantages.
From the fact that they "did their bit,"
We believe that the utmost consideration, consisting with the nature of the problems before the war department, should be accorded the men discharged from the army. Only where it is plain beyond any possibility of doubt that a man is misusing his uniform should any action be taken. It would be highly unfortunate if there should get abroad any impression that these boys, who because of their service to their country, are entitled to special consideration, were being in any degree discriminated against. Thousands of them will not be able to find employment immediately, other thousands will be compelled to take jobs that pay them only a fraction of what they were accustomed to before the war, while still others will have a great deal of lost financial ground to make up as a result of their long withdrawal from gainful occupations. All these boys will find it a hard pull to save enough money to refurnish their civilian wardrobes and are entitled to the utmost patience on the part of the military authorities. Public opinion certainly will support them in securing it.
THE GERMAN CONSTITU-TION.
(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
The proposed new German constitution, as unofficially reported from Berlin, is amazingly democratic. It may, indeed, be deemed more democratic than any of the constitutions of the older German states. It provides for a president elected by universal suffrage, and then, to prevent an executive thus chosen from becoming too powerful, it deprives him of the privilege of naming his own government. The cabinet is to be selected by a majority of the Reichstag, but by the president of the Reichstag. In this way there is assurance that the government will always be in harmony with the people's representatives. Regardless of the attitude of the German executive the government must stand or fall in accordance with the wishes of the German legislative body.
Such provisions seem to remove the danger of any unwarranted assumption of power by the head of the nation.
Like the president of France and the king of England the German president will be for a term of years, and he will not make the French president's mistake of naming the French president.
Questions of war and peace are to be left wholly to the Reichstag. The executive can do no more than recommend.
Treaties with foreign powers are also the concern of the Reichstag. In fact, the Reichstag is the supreme governing body, with executive as well as legislative authority.
There will be three kinds of German states. The national president will be little more than a monarch.
The prime minister, or chancellor, named by the president of the Reichstag, will be responsible to all the members of the Reichstag. The Reichstag, who names the president and other ministers and who presides over the people's representative, will be more powerful than either president or premier. If the speaker of the American house of representatives saw the power of the German president, he would not be so ready to veto on all important acts of the executive his position would be somewhat similar to that proposed for the president of the Reichstag of the German republic.

It is to be borne in mind that Germany has as yet made no official announcement of her constitution and can make none till the constitutional convention has at least begun its work. The proposed terms are those of the Ebert-Scheidemann faction, and may be greatly modified by the delegates chosen at Germany's first democratic election. At present the interest centers in the very evident striking of the constitution
builders to protect Germany of the future from the ambitious schemes of politicians. The effort is praiseworthy, and indicates that the bitter lesson of kaiserism has had its salutary effect.
Spirit of the Press
Four-Minute Men.
James Russell Lowell writes in "Among My Books" that "it was the drums of Naseby and Dunbar that gathered the minute men on Lexington Common." A far cry, but such a cry runs around the world, and from century to century, because the spirit of men worthy to be free is always and everywhere the same. Wherever we have found the four-minute men springing into action in the United States during the present war in response to the call for raising effective organization and opposition to an enemy threatening the rights and liberties which the minute men on Lexington Common were called to resist.
Their service was not on the front firing line, but it was none the less distinguished, and none the less effective for that reason. If we are really now entering an era of world history to end that age-old struggle, the four-minute men of America who did so much to arouse the popular heart and mind of this country to need and the duty of the hour, and to the fullest understanding of the high responsibility falling upon us in the crisis, cannot be paid a tribute beyond their deserving.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
A Perplexing Problem.
In a review of the problems for the peace conference, Lord Northcliffe, publisher of the London Times, presents Bolshevism as the most perplex-
ing. He objects, however, to policing Russia and interfering with its internal affairs at this time and argues that the first duty of the nations is to ascertain conditions, declaring that the world powers for the moment should sink their pride and send a commission to learn their exact purpose. But justice demands, first, that real conditions be ascertained, and if they merit intervention, then it should follow promptly and in a force sufficient to accomplish the result desired.—San Francisco Bulletin.
The Moral Force.
It was the swiftness of the march to triumph of the prohibition amendment that most astonished political observers. The ultimate result had long since ceased to be in doubt. Even men in "the trade" were preparing to surrender to the inevitable. The great and permanent force behind prohibition has been, however, a moral force.
Not since slavery have we had a question which so plainly showed the readiness of the American people to respond to a moral appeal. It took deep hold of their hearts. What the American people have deliberately decided to do, after years and years of debate, the American people will certainly survive
and profit by.—New York Evening Post.

JOHNSTOWN MOURNS.
All Johnstown paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. William A. Ashbrook yesterday afternoon. Stores and offices were closed and the entire community bowed its head in sorrow over the death of this woman who for more than a quarter of a century had been a leader in church, social and civic activities of the town.
The Methodist church where in the eighties Mrs. Ashbrook, then a high school teacher, taught a Sunday school class of boys and girls, was filled with friends yesterday afternoon. The chancel was banked with flowers. The minister, Rev. J. W. Blair, pronounced a beautiful eulogy, speaking of the splendid character of Mrs. Ashbrook and of her great and continuous good work for the uplift of Johnstown. The Rev. A. J. Hawke of New Lexington, former Johnstown pastor, who officiated at the Ashbrook wedding nearly thirty years ago, also spoke briefly but feelingly of his long and cordial relationship with Mr. and Mrs. Ashbrook. A quartet sang and then the last sad rites were conducted at the little cemetery north of town.
The death has served to make Johnstown pause and reflect upon the remarkable character of the one who has passed on. Hers was a life of real and practical service to others. That is why the whole town is sad and why its loss is so keenly felt.

ARMY Y. M. C. A.
Considerable criticism of the army Y. M. C. A. work in France is heard, and will probably result in a general investigation.
It should be kept in mind that the Y. M. C. A. was put up against a practically impossible proposition. They were asked to take charge of a great business spending $100,000,000 a year. Most of the trained secretaries never had had any experience in that line of work. It was about like taking a bunch of ordinary men out of the streets and asking them to operate the Pennsylvania railroad.
Furthermore there weren't trained secretaries in the country enough to take charge of all these camps. It became necessary to take on any ordinary fellow of fair ability who might apply. Naturally most of them were not up to the enormous business task that needed some of the biggest business brains in the country. That the organization succeeded as well as it did with this terrific proposition to handle is amazing. The general testimony of the army heads was that it did much better than was expected.
Some people have condemned it for taking on the cannon work. Yet the government wanted it to do it, and it could hardly refuse. The Y. M. C. A. would have attained more popularity if it had passed this job over to some one else, but it would have missed a great chance to come into intimate contact with the men.
When the soldiers get home, they will no doubt tell the story of self-sacrificing, earnest service by the Y. M. C. A. men. We are sure they will praise the good work of our fellow

RATIFICATION IS SENT TO LANSING
No Official Acknowledgment Taking Such Action
But Washington Reports
Its Receipt There.
Columbus, Jan. 25.—Governor Cox, Secretary of State Fulton and wet and dry leaders yesterday appeared equally puzzled as to who sent to Secretary of State Lansing what in Washington apparently was accepted as official notification that the general assembly of Ohio had ratified the federal dry amendment.
Word from Washington said a copy of the Ohio resolution had been received at the office of the secretary of state without a letter of transmittal,
but bearing the original signatures
of the president of the senate (Brown)
and the speaker of the house (Kimball),
with an indorsement on the back
by the secretary of state (Fulton).
Cox yesterday said he had not sent the resolution, had been received at his office and had issued only two certified copies, one to Senator Liggett, Logan county, author of the resolution, and another to Gale
Hartley, Dayton, of the Ohio Home Rule Association.
Liggett, called by telephone,
said he had his copy in his pocket. L.
H. Gibson, manager of the Home Rule Association, said its copy was in Cincinnati.
J. A. White, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, said he did not know who might have sent the copy to Washington.
The question raised is whether or not a certified copy of the resolution, without a letter of transmittal, would be considered as official notification by the secretary of state in Washington.
Of the 42 states that have ratified, formal notice had been received at Washington yesterday from 30, including Ohio. There was no regularity of form of notice or certification. Two notices were received from California,
the first from the secretary of state and the second from the presiding officer of the legislature direct. The governor of California had been enjoined
by the courts from sending notification.

FENBERG BUYS
THE ALHAMBRA
Takes Possession of Arcade Movie On Friday and Will Operate Two Amusement Places.
George M. Fenberg, manager of the Auditorium theatre, yesterday afternoon purchased the Alhambra theatre and took immediate possession of the popular playhouse and will operate it in conjunction with the larger theatre on the square, having been given an extension of lease on the Sailors and Soldiers Memorial building by the trustees at their regular monthly meeting several weeks ago.
Fenberg is probably one of the best known resident managers in the theatrical profession today. For a number of years he operated two of the largest reportoire companies on the road,
known as the Fenberg stock company,
and played only the larger cities of the country. At the same time he owned and operated two stock companies in the New England states, one in Maine and one in Massachusetts.
There he acquired his wide acquaintance with the theatrical profession.
The great panic in the east in 1906
and the casualty of one of his managers caused Fenberg to choose at he had spent thousands of dollars in an endeavor to weather the storm. That brought him to Newark in 1908 to manage the old Ophium vaudeville theatre in the Arcade for Sun & Murray. Fenberg came up smiling through the storm of adversity and that's what makes him popular with everybody. So well did he manage the theatre here that he was sent to Canton to a larger house and from there to Springfield,
Richmond, Ind., and then into Chicago.
He later went to Waterloo, Iowa and Decatur, Ill. His wide acquaintance with the big booking houses stood him in hand and he soon began to put Newark on the theatrical map and now the big booking houses of the country all want to send their acts into Newark.
That's one of the reasons Fenberg bought the Alhambra. He will now have a chance to bring more road attractions to the big theatre.
From now on the movie fans of this city will be getting a service unsurpassed by the theatres of the big cities.
The Paramount and Artercraft will be shown at the two houses. The Alhambra will be redecorated shortly and a pipe organ installed at a later date.

PRICE READJUSTMENT.
(Omaha Bee)
Prices are coming down, but it is a slow and painful process, in no way resembling the joyous bounds by which the abnormal height were attained. Artificial support is resorted to here and there, that the reversal may not be too abrupt and end in calamity, but the laws of business are operating and their efforts are noticeable. Dealers generally are better prepared for this than they were for the advance, and very few will be caught with stocks on which to accept serious loss. Coal men are an exception, for they were urged, and wisely, to make ample provision for winter demands and consequently unusual stocks of coal were stored as a matter of insurance. Sharp readjustment of prices has been forced, as far as possible by the gradual reduction of government support, but this must in time disappear and business stand on its own feet. Indications of this are noted in the reaction of the market for the various commodities of the buyers showing not so much a reluctance to purchase needed supplies as a wariness for the future. Other staples evince similar tendencies, and as a peace comes nearer we may soon witness the reaction of the market. The law is inexorable and cannot be forever held up by protracting enterprises.

FIRST LADIES OF DISTANT LANDS MEET

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson in carriage with Queen Helena of Italy on the arrival of the President and Mrs. Wilson in Rome.

While not as great in its international bearing as the visitations of President Wilson to foreign lands, the presence of Mrs. Wilson, with her husband, in these countries, is of much interest to the feminine world. The cordial reception she has received all over, as a representative of the women of the U. S., shows how the war has brought the women of different nations, as well as the men, closer together. She is cheered by the immense crowds and attracts almost as much attention as the president.

CLAIM CURE FOR GLANDERS

Italian Savants' Discovery, If True, Will Have Earned Them the Gratitude of Mankind.

The reviews of medicine and veterinary surgery speak of important researches looking to the cure of glanders, which afflicts horses and may also attack man, who almost invariably succumbs.

At the beginning of the war the spread of glanders, especially among the quadrupeds of the Third Italian Army, suggested to Colonel Commanding Dr. E. Bertetti, director of the veterinary service of the army, the idea of utilizing the victims of glanders in making experiments in regard to its curability.

Obtaining permission of the war ministry and the supreme command of the army, the experiments were begun at Caorle in a sanitarium rigorously quarantined and equipped with all the latest scientific and surgical appliances.

Dr. Guido Finzi, head of the Institute of Pathology and Medical Clinics of the Superior Veterinary School of Turin, assisted Doctor Bertetti. After two years they announced that glanders was curable, not only in its chronic stages but also in its process of evolution.

The importance of the discovery and the evidence of the results obtained led the two experimenters to ask for a commission to make practical tests of their discoveries. The results fully confirmed the facts announced by Doctors Bertetti and Finzi.

PUT HYPNOTISM TO GOOD USE
Australian Physician Announces That He Has Cured War Stammering by Its Employment.

Writing in the Medical Journal of Australia, Dr. Clarence G. Godfrey states that during the past two years a number of cases have been referred to him for treatment by hypnotic suggestion, in which stammering or stuttering had developed, or had been revived, after years of disappearance, as the result of shell shock or of various war stresses. Sometimes a hypnotized patient has been told to keep on repeating some well-known nursery rhyme and not to cease at the signal to awake, although in the middle of the rhyme, but to keep on talking. He will usually manifest his astonishment at finding himself talking without difficulty. Sometimes a patient will converse on waking without realizing that his stammering has disappeared until his attention is drawn to it with amusing effect. In one case the patient spoke perfectly in sleep at the first attempt to hypnotize him, although he had had a very bad stutter for eight months past, being almost inarticulate. He woke in a few minutes apparently cured and has been free from stutter ever since.

It has been noticed that every case treated, even the worst, has been able to speak far better in the hypnotic state than out of it.

Little-Known Hero.
Of the many stories of heroism during the war on which official records are silent but which are being brought forth with relaxation of the censorship is that of Captain Larcombe of the antiaircraft defenses of the London (Eng.) district. His job for four years has been to find and dispose of German aerial bombs that failed to explode when dropped on London.

After each air raid, and in the early part of the war there were many, Larcombe and his men would go about the city seeking the "duds." It was dangerous work extricating them from wherever they happened to drop, transporting them out of the city and exploding or otherwise destroying them. During the excitement after a raid few people thought of the bombs that failed to "go off," but all of them have ceased to be a menace to the city.

Ware Souvenirs.
Even "kultur" has its limitations. One of these is brought out in a letter from Private Ralph G. Kilborn of the Sixteenth engineers. He says: "I am in a dugout that was very hastily abandoned by a 'kultured' Boche. He was 'kultured' enough to have a nice feather tick in his bunk, which I appreciate in spite of the fact that even his 'kultur' didn't keep it from being alive. However, he left me his helmet for a box and plenty of candles to light up the place. There is everything in the line of souvenirs that one could ask, but everything I have goes on my back, with an overcoat, blankets, raincoat, shelter tent and extra clothes, so the souvenirs will stay just about where they are, unless somebody comes along with a truck."

Breaking It Gently.
Kind Old Lady (visiting penitentiary)—Ah, my poor fellow; you look like an honest man. Why did they put you here?

Poor Fellow—Yer right; it was a shame, leddy. They put me here just fer tryin' to open up a little business.

Kind Old Lady—Why, that was an outrage! What kind of a business was it?

Poor Fellow—The little business on the front of a safe.

Saw Another Chance.
"Say, that lot you sold me is three feet under the water."

"Yes it is, and you know it."

"Well, it's a good thing you told me. I can let you have a bargain in a caboose.—Kansas City Journal."

WOMEN of AMERICA

Greatly Benefitted by the War

More Attention Henceforth Will Be Given To The Health

Mrs. Albert Huet Redies Her Experience for Benefit of Others.

So many of the aches and pains of the female sex can be traced directly to catarrh and catarrhal conditions, that thousands of women have found Peruna just what they needed for catarrh of the head and throat.

It is by encouraging a rich, pure blood supply to all parts of the body that Peruna allays the inflammation and congestion, and produces health in the mucous linings everywhere. This remedy, which for forty-five years has been the standard treatment for catarrh in all its forms, regulates the digestive organs and helps eliminate the wastes and poisons resulting from catarrhal conditions. This foetid matter may frequently find lodgment in the system and then do irreparable harm.

The experience of Mrs. Albert Huet of 353 Hackmatack St., South Manchester, Conn., is an indication of the great good which Peruna is accomplishing for her sex. She writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach, bowels and liver. I sought a cure everywhere but had to give up finally obliged to take my bed. I wish you could understand my feeling toward your Life-saver, Peruna. I have taken Peruna and today can say, 'Thank God for a good stomach and a better life.'"

"I wish to thank you for a good stomach and a better life. I have taken Peruna and today can say, 'Thank God for a good stomach and a better life.'"

Mrs. Huet gained in weight from 95 to 135 pounds.

Such a story carries a message of hope and happiness to every person, man or woman, suffering from catarrh.

Peruna is sold everywhere.

There's many a girl who goes through the pangs of jealousy and envy when she sees her friend, the girl with the radiant complexion, enjoying things.

If you are a sufferer from skin troubles and know the embarrassment and pain they bring, waste no further time fretting about your ailment but commence immediately the Resinol Ointment treatment. Pimples, blackheads, blotchy patches on the face, rough red skins, speedily respond to the soothing, healing medication this ointment contains.

Even quicker results may be obtained by joint use of Resinol Soap with Resinol Ointment. Apply the ointment at night. Wash the face with the soap by day.

MAY WIN OR LOSE MILLIONS FOR CHRIST

Striking "Call to Arms" in Bishop Warne's Message.

THE OPPORTUNITY IS NOW

Centenary Call Is For Vision. Declare Speakers at Great Convention in Columbus—Marvelous Awakening in India Described.

Columbus, Jan. 25.—"Now is the time to win for Christ the fifty millions of India's depressed classes. They are moving toward Him. We may have them or lose them—as we will."

This was the striking "call to arms" brought to the closing session of the Methodist Centenary (Cincinnati area) convention at Memorial hall Friday evening by Bishop F. W. Warne of India. A stirring address brought home to his hearers the bishop's conviction that if Christianity is to be the faith of India's millions, America's people must move quickly to bring them its message. In this regard, Bishop Warne but reflected the views of many other leaders who have studied the world situation as it now presents itself.

"India's loyalty during the war has been second to none. In no other country, in proportion to the population have the forces of sedition been so small, and have all classes, willing to make the life sacrifice, joined the cause of the allies," said Bishop Warne, who described heroic acts of the armies from India.

DR. F. I. JOHNSON.
Executive Secretary, Cincinnati Area, Methodist Centenary.

Turning to conditions in India, Bishop Warne discussed the great spiritual awakening towards Christianity—an awakening which has been the marvel of Christian leaders. Bishop Warne said:

"This movement has swept on, gradually increasing in force and expansion until in the Methodist church alone—to say nothing of others—we are baptizing about 40,000 converts a year, and holding back about 200,000 on our waiting list. There has never been anywhere else such a situation in church history. These great multitudes are being held back for lack of missionaries and money to train and support Indian workers, and this unprecedented situation furnishes one of the strongest reasons for the centenary call for the consecration of the young life of our churches in Christian America and a call to the whole church for sufficient funds to meet this great emergency."

Bishop Warne and other speakers of the convention presented a vivid picture of the similar situation in other parts of the world, and at home. Resources of men and money to meet the call must be provided now, or the opportunity passes, they declared.

CENTENARY CALL IS FOR VISION.

"The clamor of the centenary is not merely for eighty millions of money," declared Dr. John W. Hancher, director of centenary area organizations. "That is a clarion call, but the centenary call is for vision. The centenary folks would have the church see far down the valleys of progress; far up the mountains of hope; far over the plains of opportunity; far out on the horizon of eternity's great sea; they would have the great body of Christ militant hark back to Calvary and Gethsemane through historic memory, and then to Armistice and immortality through boundless faith."

"No sturdier program ever was promulgated than the stewardship of property, the stewardship of service, the stewardship of life, the fellowship of interdependence," declared Dr. Hancher. "It all stands forth under the brotherhood of man, and that harks back to the Fatherhood of God."

"The morning is big with hope when men really consider human life a trust and themselves its responsible stewards. That done, it is not difficult to recognize one's stewardship over property to which one holds title," he continued.

TIBET OPEN TO CHRISTIANS

Officials Have Invited Missionaries to Enter Freely into the "Forbidden Land."

Those disciples of Christ who interest themselves in foreign missions are aroused over an invitation coming to American disciples from Tibet, according to the Boston Evening Transcript. This land, occupying the "roof of the world," has heretofore been practically closed to all foreigners. That it has been so was due, so Tibet officials tell American disciples, to the influence of China. Now Tibet has thrown off Chinese control and one of its first acts is to appeal for Christian missionaries. The disciples have a mission station at Batang, one of the farthest west cities of China, nearly 3,000 miles up the Yangtze river.

A venturesome American doctor, sent out by the disciples, journeyed 18 days farther west, getting into Tibet and into a city wherein disease in its worst form, unattended and not understood, ravaged the people. The doctor set up an impromptu clinic and dispensary. The relief was so great that one of the highest civic officials in all Tibet begged him to stay, or if he could not do so to return, build a hospital and official Tibet would help him.

Now the disciples argue that here is a call they are not at liberty to ignore. Their missionary society has acted to this effect. An appeal has been made for four families, two of them physician families, to go. It is said there are no hospitals, no churches, no schools, no Christian agencies of any kind in that country of 4,000,000 people. American manufactured goods are beginning to reach Tibet and Scotch whisky has been there for a decade or two.

OLD BOXER DIES ON FIELD

Dick Burge, Once Well Known in This Country Met His Death Fighting in France.

Late Private Richard Burge of the First Surrey rifles never was a quitter, and, despite the fact that he was at the half century mark, he enlisted and died the death of a soldier. He was once the lightweight champion of England, and was born December 19, 1855.

Dick Burge was a name well known to the fight fans on both sides of the Atlantic 20 years or so ago, chiefly because of his remarkable battle with Kid Lavigne for the lightweight championship of the world. Dick was several inches taller than the Singian Kid, and he had a considerable advantage in weight, but, much to his surprise and that of the English fans, he was knocked out in the seventeenth round. He gave a good account of himself before he fell, however, and there were times when the Kid had reason to fear that he had taken on too good a man. After Burge quit the ring he became a night promoter. That was in 1900. He enlisted as a volunteer in the British army in 1915 and served with the colors for three years. —Detroit Free Press.

Rulers With Business Instincts.

At the outset of his imperial career the grandfather of the former German Kaiser, Frederick William, owed his accumulation of money to his commercial dealings. One of his commercial undertakings was to start milk-roads, which did exceedingly well, in spite of being carried on sub rosa, for the German courtiers found that the imperial favor was dependent upon their patronizing the imperial dairy. In this way the old emperor created a huge milk monopoly in various cities, and reaped a correspondingly large profit. Kaiser Wilhelm himself had keen commercial instincts, and had a finger in most of the big German undertakings. In Germany it was currently reported that Ballin was merely the figure-head of the North German Lloyd line of steamships, and that the Kaiser was the real man at the helm, and the same thing was said of many other money-making concerns.

Avery's Pride.

Avery—Yes!

Con.—Why, man, do you want your wife to become a politician?

Avery—It isn't that exactly. Fact is, she has always been a politician.

Con.—Well, what is the reason?

Avery—Pride, pride, my boy—pure, brute, male pride!

Con.—How so? I don't see the connection.

Avery—I don't like the idea of being married to a human being who is classed with the idiots.—London Tit-Bits.

United States' Filers.

In his recent annual report Maj. Gen. William L. Kenley, director of military aeronautics, states that 4,990 men had been graduated as reserve military aviators, the first rating for pilots, by June 30, last, with 110 bombers, 85 bombing pilots, 464 observers, 280 observer pilots, and 121 pursuit pilots. In the year ended last June 30 there were 152 fatalities in training, or an average of one death to 2,634 hours and 201,000 miles flown. Stalled engines usually due to an error of the pilot, caused 88 deaths; collisions, 29; and sideslips, 10. The report goes on further to state that 450 military aviators also had graduated, 155 of whom were fully qualified observers during the year.—Sciencific American.

FOOD RELIEF BILL IS PASSED IN U. S. SENATE

Washington, Jan. 24.—After a week of spirited debate the senate last night, by a vote of 33 to 15, passed the administration bill appropriating $100,000,000 for food relief in Europe and the Near East. The fund was requested by President Wilson as a means of checking the westward spread of Bolshevism.

The measure now goes to conference for adjustment of minor senate amendments, but leaders believe final enactment will be accomplished next week. Senator Martin of Virginia, the Democratic leader, and Senators Overman of North Carolina and Warren of Wyoming were appointed senate conferees. The most important senate amendment changed the lapse provision, forcing enemy peoples, so the nationalities friendly to the United States and the allies may be added. All amendments designed to limit the power of President Wilson or Food Administration House in distribution of the fund were rejected recently by the senate and no final effort was made today for their addition. On the final roll call 15 Republicans and three Democrats voted against the bill's passage and 34 Democrats and 19 Republicans joined in its support.

Rev. Emil N. Kraftt, pastor of the Evangelical church has received a message from Columbus to the effect that he has been chosen campaign-manager of the Evangelical church in the coming inter-church after-war campaign, in which every Protestant denomination will participate. The purpose of the campaign will be to raise $10,000,000 for after-the-war reconstruction—for aiding congregations seriously affected by the war—for helping to regain what has been lost in the foreign mission fields, for encouraging returning soldiers to prepare for the Christian ministry and for carrying on the work among the soldiers as long as the military establishment continues. The date of the campaign is from Feb. 9 to 16. Rev. Kraftt will have charge of all territory east of Columbus and will attend the inter-denominational conference at Cleveland next week.

GRAIN PRICES BREAK; COST OF LIVING CUT

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Big breaks in the value of grain and provisions took place yesterday as a result of heavy selling and apparent lack of buying power. Corn showed losses of 4 cents to 5 3/4c a bushel, oats more than 4 cents and provisions the maximum limit for a single day, 50 cents to $1.00. In a broad way the setbacks to prices were ascribed to readjustment from a war basis and to efforts to cut the cost of living.
